Introduction:

On account of globalization and increased competition, firms have to manage a large number of product lines with shorter product life cycles under the situation of changed power equations within a chain. Most supply chains the world over are slow, costly and do not deliver good value to the end customer. However, technological and managerial motivation along with the development of logistics specialists have helped progressive firms to improve supply chain performance under trying times. Indian firms need to know progressive firms in developed economies, who have managed to improve supply chain performance considerably. As globalization and technological innovation continue to etch new contours on the landscape of business, Supply Chain Management continues to evolve. In such a dynamic scenario, this one week workshop is aimed at equal coverage on state of the art know-how in Supply Chain Management as also on the fundamentals.

Content:

- Building strategic framework to analyze supply chain
- Managing material flows & information flows in the supply chain
- Role of logistics in supply chain management
- Supply chain performance management
- Logistics & supply chain management challenges for the future
- Best practices in supply chain management and implementation issues

Objective:

Digitalization trends are reshaping the supply chain & have created a whole new business ecosystem. Additionally, customers are demanding innovative, diverse and greener products. The objective of workshop is to provide participants with both an overview & in-depth knowledge about the implementation issues, major challenges and the best and the local practices of Logistics & Supply Chain Management.

Workshop Schedule:

09:30 a.m to 04:00 p.m with 1 hour lunch break on each day.

Methodology:

The methodology consists of lecture, seminars, hands-on exercises through group /individual assignment ,discussion on case studies and industrial visit.

Faculty:

The teaching faculty will constitute experts from SRMU & Industry.

For Whom:

This workshop is intended for those who are interested in logistics & SCM in its broadest sense and its corporate level implementation in real terms. Specifically, this workshop is intended for dynamic professional from industry, academic faculty who want to introduce course on logistics & supply chain management in their respective programme and students from engineering and business management background.
