Research at SRMU

The vision and mission statements of SRMU clearly states its commitment towards innovation, research, consultancy and extension services for the benefit of the society and to transform rural areas for self reliant/ Atamnirbhar Bharat, a Vision of Hon'ble Prime Minister of India.

To translate the vision, University has established research and consultancy cell in 2012-13 from the inception. Various policies for research promotion have been drafted and executed after prior approval from the authorities. To improve the research/innovation ecosystem in the university, "University Research Fund" was established with a provision to provide financial assistance to research scholars/faculty members for undertaking translational research activities. The efforts have shown result in a short span of time, with consistent increase in number of quality publications in journals of repute, National and International Patents, in-house innovations, consultancy and extension services along with active research collaborations with various institutions, industries and laboratories of India. The faculty members and research scholars have participated and presented their research outcome in various National and International conferences, seminars and symposiums and receives awards/recognitions from renowned dignitaries.

SRMU is running its Doctoral program as per the guidelines of the UGC in various streams of the university as per availability of seats. The number of research scholars increasing every year clearly indicates the quality in research and consultancy scenario of the university as research scholars are joining the university from across the country. The main emphasis of the university is towards maintaining quality in research with proper code, conduct, ethics and integrity in its functioning.

SRMU has a dedicated IPR cell to facilitate research scholars/faculty members regarding I.P. outcomes with a well drafted and executed IPR policy. The IPR cell is also involved in catering young students, research scholars and faculty members by organizing so many seminars, workshops and invited talk of eminent personality from academia and industries. The workshop like "Innovation 4Nation; Innovate for New India", was one of such activity which was fully supported financially from the Council of Science & Technology, Department of Science & Technology, Govt. of Uttar Pradesh, where experts from Indian Institute of Technology, Patentminder IPR attorney interacted with students and faculty members and motivate them for innovations and their protection to strengthen and sustainable development of New India. Therefore, our primary objective is likely to bring repute to the University related to research and development through increase the number of research publications in reputed national and international Journals (SCOPUS, WoS, SCI indexed) with high impact factor as well as consultancy and government sponsored projects, patents, conduction of conferences, workshop etc. Overall, the Research & Consultancy department is committed to become a model department. Consultancy

Consultancy Services for any university is matter of pride. It confirms the presence of various valued professionals (consultants) in certain field of expertise that are high in demand and are above the capacity of various firms and organizations. A consulting service, is a service of experts (consultant) providing professional advice to an organization or an individual for a fee. The primary purpose of a consulting service, is to provide access to industry- specific specialists and subject matter expertise. Consulting is not a field for a person who hesitates to face new challenges. Consultancy demands business and management skills in addition to engineering and professional trainings. It requires the competent engineer/manager who likes variety and enjoys the challenge of ever-changing problems. A consultant is a person who provides professional or expert advice in a particular field of science or business to either an organisation or individual. A consultant provides expertise that a client lacks or support that a client is unable to fulfill. In return for their professional services, the consultant charges a fee as consultancy fee. Secondly, a consultant operates independently from the client, implying that, from the respective consultant, there is no conflict of interests between the client's issue and the services. Thirdly, a consultant operates in a professional manner, which ranges from having the right qualifications to ensuring high quality service delivery and a solid internal operation. Consultants also provide a significant amount of value for an organization. They can help to develop strategies for growth or manage projects. Consultants can perform various duties and provide opinions, analysis and recommendation to organizations or individuals based on their own expertise.

SRMU is also excelling in the field of consultancy services and had bagged various consultancies in the field of water and environment. The consultancy services that were taken up by SRMU in 2020-21 are as follows:
